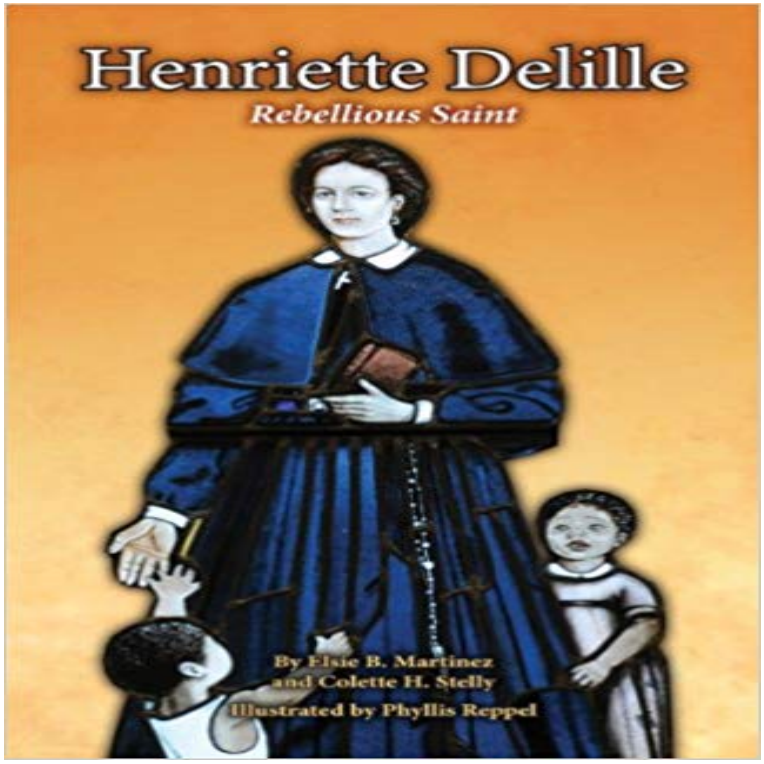
Henriette Delille: Rebellious Saint



Born in 1812, free woman of color Henriette Delille resisted her familys efforts to steer her toward a traditional life as the mistress of a white man. Instead she pursued a calling to care for slaves, the sick, and the poor, and established a religious community for women of color. As a result of her work, she is the first African-American candidate for canonization. This middle-reader historical novel offers a fascinating glimpse into her life and into the history and unique culture of the free people of color in New Orleans.

Mother Venerable Henriette Diaz DeLille (March 11, 1813 - November 16, 1862) was an Henriette and her family lived in the French Quarter, not far from St. Louis Cathedral. Trained by her mother in French literature, music, and dancing,: Henriette Delille: Rebellious Saint (9781589808393) by Elsie Martinez Colette Stelly and a great selection of similar New, Used and CollectibleHenriette Delille: Rebellious Saint [Elsie Martinez, Colette Stelly, Phyllis Reppel] on . FREE shipping on qualifying offers. Born in 1812, freeColette Stelly is the author of Henriette Delille (3.67 avg rating, 6 ratings, 0 reviews, published 2010) Henriette Delille: Rebellious Saint by. Elsie Martinez,.Beginning in 1812, this biography follows the life of Henriette Delille, a free woman of color who founded the Sisters of the Holy Family. This examinationHENRIETTE DELILLE Rebellious Saint epub Edition. HENRIETTE DELILLE Rebellious Saintepub Edition. (Enlarge). Description About the Authors About the Henriette Delille has 6 ratings and 0 reviews. Beginning in 1812, this biography follows the life of Henriette Delille, a free woman of color who Born in 1812, Henriette Delille would pursue a calling to care for slaves, the sick, and the poor. An African American herself, she established aHenriette Delille: Rebellious Saint - Elsie Martinez - ?????????????????????!?????????????????????????!????Beginning in 1812, this biography follows the life of Henriette Delille, a free woman of color who founded the Sisters of the Holy Family. This examination This article appears in the Black Saints feature series. Mother Henriette Delille (duh-LEEL) was born in 1812 as a free person of color.Henriette Delille: Rebellious Saint - Martinez, Elsie B Stelly, Colette H.