When it comes to skin care, there is an overwhelming number of choices that are available on the market. Unfortunately, most of them are not the best choices for your skin or for your general health. With all the toxic chemicals and cheap fillers that manufacturers put into many cosmetics, it is not surprising that the effect on our skin is only temporary at best. In the long run most products will actually make your skin look older and age faster. With all these concerns in mind, I went on a search of the internet to create a quick guide for all the women that would like to look beautiful, preserve their youthful look and remain healthy at the same time. Here is your quick guide to proven natural skin care tips and homemade remedies that will not break your bank. They are also quick and easy to make even for your busy lifestyle. In it you will discover how to make your own cleansers, toners and moisturizers for a fraction of the cost of commercial products and without the chemicals. Since nutrition and healthy living have been my passion and my main interest for over 20 years, I have also included some suggestions on nutrition, wrinkle prevention and acne elimination. Try them all yourself and enjoy beautiful, young and healthy skin for years to come.
