

Amish: Born Again the Same Way as Others?

The Amish Way Joe Keim, founder of Mission to the Amish People, deciphers the conversation between Jesus and Nicodemus and explains the biblical teaching of Jesus regarding the second birth and why it is necessary to salvation. He then contrasts Jesus direct teaching versus the Amish idea that we can earn salvation by following the traditions and religious practices of the Amish people. The Amish religion is led by a strict belief that we must do our best in life on earth in order to have a shot at spending eternity in Heaven. The Amish way is to confess all sin in order to be sure that no sins stand between themselves and God. Because of these works based beliefs, many ex Amish struggle with a feeling of failure, believing that they may well be doomed because of their leaving the Amish culture. Jesus never intended that we rely on our works, and the author plainly points out how all Amish, and ex Amish, can accept Christ's righteousness in order to be certain of their salvation and future. He shows how they can have faith, knowing Jesus Christ, and have a very fulfilling purpose in this life on earth. About the Author and His Ministry Since the establishment of MAP in February of 2000, Joe and Esther Keim (both formerly Amish) have been doing all they can to further assist the plain Amish folk of our country. Having been Amish gives Joe first-hand experience with the religion, and because of that he and his wife have been a blessing to many Amish people whom have been seeking the Lord in replacement of Amish religion.
