

The Haunted Realm 2013 Wall Calendar

From the very beginning of recorded time, all great civilizations have believed in the supernatural in some form or another. Sir Simon Marsden's startlingly atmospheric black-and-white infrared photographs reveal this hidden world, and his ghostly and beguiling images transport the reader to a different realm - a haunted realm. In The Haunted Realm wall calendar, each photograph is accompanied by accounts of the apparitions that have been reported at the site, and the strange and often macabre real-life events said to lie behind them. Simon Marsden is an internationally acclaimed photographer whose work can be found in the J. Paul Getty Museum in California and the Victoria and Albert Museum in London. His books include This Spectred Isle, The Haunted Realm, The Journal of a Ghosthunter and The Twilight Hour.
