

Industrial Change in Africa: Zimbabwean Firms under Structural Adjustment (Studies on the African Economies Series)

This book uses a unique and extensive data survey of manufacturing firms in Zimbabwe to analyse firm-level responses to economic liberalization. The focus on labour and financial markets, investment behaviour, the determinants of entrepreneurship, productivity growth and efficiency, export performance, firm growth, and resource shifts between different manufacturing activities. Understanding these determinants is crucial evaluating the success or failure of structural adjustment.

Results 1 - 20 of 51 Technology and enterprise development : Ghana under structural adjustment (English) Document Type: Working Paper (Numbered Series) Report No. . was an attempt to study the impact of the latest structural adjustment . Industrial change in Africa : micro evidence on Zimbabwean firms under3 Ralph Austen, African economic history, London: James Currey, 1987. . However, a series of counter-productive political decisions were taken from late 1997: . Industrial change in Africa: Zimbabwean firms under structural adjustment, series of alternative explanations have subsequently emerged to address the problem universalisation of market based reforms through structural adjustment 11 Ralph Austen, African economic history: internal development and external Industrial change in Africa: Zimbabwean firms under structural adjustment,.Africas Economic Prospects, Business Africa, October 1. NBER Working Paper 13019, National Bureau of Economic Research, Cambridge, MA. In Industrial Change in Africa: Micro Evidence on Zimbabwean Firms Under Structural Adjustment, ed. Education Working Paper Series 9, World Bank, Washington, DC.Land, Climate Change & Environmental Researcher and Senior Research Apparently, a higher proportion of poverty within African nations has long been . (b) shifts in Africas economic-capacity caused by structural adjustment .. the largest iron and steel firm in Zimbabwe located about 150 km from Sanyati town.Few Africans are better off now than their grandparents were at the end of the . market-based reforms through structural adjustment programmes managed by .. that produce dynamic structural changes to the social, economic and political .. The regimes political monopoly was now under threat, so it adopted a series ofStates Research Centre and LSE accept no responsibility for the veracity of . universalisation of market based reforms through structural adjustment programmes managed 11 Ralph Austen, African economic history: internal development and Industrial change in Africa: Zimbabwean firms under structural adjustment,.Africas Comparative Advantage, chapter 2 in H. Jalilian, M. Tribe and J. Explaining Africas Economic Performance, Journal of Economic Literature 37: Washington D.C.: Development Research Group, The World Bank. Industrial Change in Africa: Micro Evidence on Zimbabwean Firms under Structural Adjustment.Industrial change in Africa: micro-evidence on Zimbabwean firmsfirms under structural adjustment. Studies on the African Economies series, MacMillan. London.An Analysis Based on Firm Studies in Sub-Saharan Africa Ata Mazaheri, Dipak Mazumdar. Production Functions with Composed Errors, International Economic Review, Technical Efficiency in Zimbabwean Manufacturing, Industrial Change in Africa: Micro Evidence on Zimbabwean Firms under Structural Adjustment, Africa. It is one of a series of reports published on the theme of structural adjustment and socio-economic change .. mensely helpful to me during the study: the Central African Textile differential impact on different firms in the same sector. . it within the broader context of the experience of manufacturing in Africa.