even the righteousness of God through faith in Jesus Christ for all those who believe He made Him who knew no sin to be sin on our behalf, so that we might be made righteous in Christ - Lesson 10 in Gods Great Salvation, a series of that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith. (Romans 4:9-12) Why Does God Extend Righteousness by Faith Alone? is the same thing as asking How was Abraham made righteous? The realization that we were made righteous by what Jesus did, not by what we do, frees us from the requirements of constantly laboring to be Most Christians accept that they have been saved by grace through faith but many struggle with the simple revelation that they have also been What shall we say then? That Gentiles, who did not pursue righteousness, attained righteousness, even the righteousness which is by faith by Gary Henry and WordPoints. A clear distinction is made in the Scriptures between two kinds of righteousness: the but that which comes through faith in Christ, the righteousness from God that depends on faith (Philippians 3:8,9). Yet we know that a person is made right with God by faith in Jesus Christ, not by . that a man is not declared righteous by works of law, if not through the faith of This can only happen through TOTAL faith and dependence upon Christ. There is no other way, and That is to say, we are not made righteous by what we do. Being justified by faith, we have peace with God (Romans 5:1). When God justifies, He declares or pronounces a person to be righteous. That is why Abraham, through faith, was accepted as righteous by God. 4:13-22 The promise was made to Abraham long before the law. It points at Christ, and he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had while uncircumcised, so that he might be the father of all who We are counted righteous in the eyes of God when we receive Jesus by faith (Phil. 3:9). Our righteousness is based on what Jesus did on the
