Tricia Bradley was in the midst of an ordinary life when her world was rocked to its core! First she discovered that having children was not an inalienable right. Then, after adopting three beautiful children, she learned that her oldest child was living a life of duplicity. Thus began a journey of twists and turns that caught her off-guard. Its not much of an exaggeration to say that without her faith in the Lord, she might not have survived such a crisis in her home.

Over the next 6 years, Tricia and her husband faced many difficulties. She shares her story candidly, and readers find themselves soaring with her in hope one minute and then crashing in devastation the next. Along the way, she learned many tips about how to handle such a tragedy in her home, and she shares them with us! Benefiting from hindsight, she also can see the various chapters of her story from a new perspective.
